

The International Jacques Ellul Society

in partnership with Association Internationale Jacques Ellul announces its 2022 conference:

Ellul and Charbonneau on Ethics in an Age of Ecological Challenge

The challenges raised by the ecological devastation and the swell of technique demand both a rigorous analytical framework and resolute ethical engagement. This conference, in both French and English language, probes the heritage of life-long friends, Jacques Ellul and Bernard Charbonneau, in their sympathies and their differences, that we might better understand and confront the ethical plights which define our times.

Strasbourg, France January 26-28, 2022

Also online conference participation at half price.
